To Stem Communist Infiltration

U.S. To Give South Viet Nam, Faster-Type Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to give the South Vietnamese navy new and faster patrol-type vessels to reinforce its junk fleet in the battle to stem Communist infiltration of men and arms by sea.

Sources also said today that more U.S. Navy men will be attached as advisers to the 550-ship Vietnamese armed junk fleet carrying the burden of hunting down the gun and men smugglers among an estimated 72,000 small ships sailing those waters.

The exact scale of this strengthened aid awaits the outcome of a U.S. Navy survey to determine how much is needed.

For the time being, it was indicated, the U.S. Navy will continue its present limited role of spotting suspicious junks from the air and from warships operating off South Viet Nam.

U.S. strategists who met this week in Honolulu studied addi-

U.S. Planes Stage Raids

Yankee Marines Fight Viet Reds

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines skirmished with Viet Cong guerrillas today in the Leathernecks' first extended ground action of the war while American and Vietnamese planes ranged over North Viet Nam on at least nine separate raids.

Eighteen Navy jets from the carriers Midway and Hancock capped the day by blasting at six Communist boats in a river estuary just east of Vinh, midway between the border and Hanoi, with cannon fire and rockets.

Pilots said the strike was highly successful.

Planes also strafed and bombed Communist targets in South Viet Nam.

During an eight-hour patrol into a valley, outside the Da Nang Air Base, the Marines tangled twice with the Communist guerrillas. One American was wounded slightly, and two others collapsed with heat prostration.

The operation included the first helicopter assault landing of U.S. Marines in South Viet Nam.

Three squadrons of Vietnamese propeller-driven fighter-bombers — the largest Vietnamese air unit flying so far — attacked a base in North Viet Nam and reported they destroyed it.

The target was identified as a

Both Trying To Avoid Issue

U.S., Viet Nam Decision Due On Joint Command

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The deepening involvement of the United States in the Vietnamese war is daily bringing Washington and Saigon closer to a decision both have been trying to avoid — whether to create a joint command.

In practical terms such a joint command probably would have little effect on current relations between the allies. Maj. Gen. Tran Van Minh, the Vietnamese armed forces commander, said Wednesday: "Creation of a joint command would not be very surprising. As it is, we are working very closely and in consultation with the Americans."

But creation of a joint command would be a major diplomatic development that could spark powerful international reaction.

So far Americans have served in Viet Nam only as advisers or in supporting roles. They do not command Vietnamese troops at any level. The only commands Americans hold are over other Americans.

A joint command could change this, particularly if combat units went into the field.

Most Vietnamese civilian and military leaders have been found noncommittal on the question of whether American combat forces should be used as combat units in Viet Nam.

Periodic Auto Inspections?

If the Ohio Legislature goes through with its apparent intent to pester motorists with periodic auto inspections, the least it can do is take into account that many motorists already are doing this and should not be required to duplicate it.

These Ohio motorists are in preventive maintenance programs that cause their autos to be checked every few thousand miles—not just a cursory examination but a painstaking inspection for which they pay substantial fees.

For these motorists it would make no sense to pay for and undergo less thorough inspections. Their preventive maintenance routine far exceeds the state's minimum requirements.

They should not be required to pay for something they don't need, unless the real purpose of this dubious proposal is what some skeptics are sure it is—to collect a little more money from Ohio auto owners—to squeeze a little more juice out of the highway turnips.

Certainly it isn't safety of person and vehicle that's involved. The worst accidents these days are being caused by fool drivers in near-perfect cars—soaped-up go-devils that can hit 110 mph because they're kept tuned up like concert violins. It isn't the little old lady who drives only on Sunday and doesn't know a torque converter from an eggbeater who's threatening to wipe us out.

Worthy Causes

Fund drives for deserving causes are in progress here.

To name a few, that of the Veterans City Council to erect the war memorial in front of City Hall; the Rescue Mission's bid to erase a $5,000 mortgage; "Dollars For Scholars" to help provide advanced education, and the program for much-needed improvements at the high school athletic facilities at Patterson Field. And there are others.

If you have a few dollars that may be burning a hole in your pocket and want to put them to good use, you need look no further. Contributions to any of the above will bring a worthwhile return on your investment.

If The Choice Is Survival

Rarely does a public official elicit the easy agreement that followed Atty. Gen. Nicholas de B. Katzenbach's statement of standards for his department in dealing with crime news.

Though he made the statement before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, which contains many severe critics of lawyers' feelings about crime news reporting, no one present could think of any good reason to be critical. His ideas harmonized with the prevailing opinion of the editors, themselves.

But has anything been settled? Very likely, nothing.

The U. S. Department of Justice rarely is involved in the kind of crime cases that cause trouble with the press. The attorney general of the United States was like a society dowager promising never to knock over a filling station or an all-night laundry.

These problems arise in local situations. They are associated with inept people doing inept things—people who never heard of the U. S. attorney general and couldn't care less. Some of these people are lawyers, some judges, some newsmen.

It's odd, incidentally, that the deplorable hoo-rah and mismanagement in Dallas were largely the result of electronic journalism, yet newspaper journalists are the only people trying to do anything about avoiding a repetition.

And here, not so incidentally, probably

On Stage!

Cues have become an important part in the lives of many youngsters as they diligently go over their lines for the various plays which are taking place in high schools and junior high schools throughout the district.

The odds are great against any Oscar winners emerging from the thespians trodding area stages. But the amateur actors and actresses will find the trials and tribulations of a class play challenging and stimulating. They will derive a certain satisfaction in mastering their roles and in overcoming the stage fright that haunts even the most experienced.

But probably the greatest enjoyment of all will come in later years from the pleasant memories that linger from a brief, but happy career on the stage.

By Martin Miller

Touring such new regions is always exciting, because local customs vary. All the one-way streets run in the wrong direction, for instance. And five-point intersections are always a challenge to an outsider.

In this connection, a letter from Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association, to local auto clubs came to my attention. You may appreciate some of his comments.

He wrote:

"TOO MANY cities are exaggerating their traffic problems to a point where they feel obliged to complicate the situation unnecessarily. When given a choice between a successful plan and an experiment in traffic direction too many are prone to adopt the latter."

"The AAA does not favor the present plan of virtually requiring the average driver to be a traffic expert."

"The average driver cannot think of traffic puzzles and safety at the same time. You cannot overload the motorist with too many rules and expect him to drive at his best."

"For fear of making some error in negotiating a left turn, many drivers, often go completely around the block, proceeding in the desired direction by means of this primitive expedient. Then they try to make up for lost time by driving hastily, and thus jeopardizing pedestrians and taking unwarranted chances."

What makes this so interesting is that it was not written this week or even this year. It was written in 1925—40 years ago.

Progress, it's wonderful.

Presenting A Strong Argument

Revolutionary Party Lists Aims

By Victor Riesel

Money — lots of it — appeared to be the least of the problems of the Revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement launched Sunday as the Progressive Labor party PLP.

From somewhere came ample funds to keep 110 delegates at the New York City founding convention for a week at the rate of almost $2,000 a day in expenses.

From somewhere came additional thousands of dollars needed to bring in party activists from California, Western New York and Kentucky.

From somewhere came funds for the printing and distributing of tens of thousands of leaflets, booklets, and a 48-page convention discussion document in New York and Washington, D. C., over the April 18 weekend.

And whatever the mysterious sources are, they're also providing thousands of dollars monthly for maintenance of a network of headquarters.

THE PLP PEOPLE claim headquarters in Berkeley, San Francisco, Chicago, Buffalo, Louisville, Ky., and Williamsport, Pa. These, in addition to three major offices in New York.

Apparently there is no doubt of the gold flow. PLP leaders are planning to publish not only a Marxist-Leninist quarterly, a national newspaper and a series of anti-imperialist booklets, but also a slick magazine fashioned after the pro-Chinese Communist "Revolution" now issued in Paris for the European continent.

Thus there is no reason to doubt that the avowedly Communist Progressive Labor party — pro-Maoist and pro-Castro — will find the money for its action program.

And those of us seeking clues to this direct action planned by this tough coalition of young people find the specifics in the militant, disdainful program advocated by the PLP's most powerful leader.

He wants "political councils" set up to "take effective control of their communities."

He demands immediate establishment of "farm-worker organizations of sharecroppers and tenant farmers" so they could "demand agrarian reform and land to the landless."

He calls for tenant, house, and block committees to struggle in low income areas.

IN THE IMAGE of the depression day militancy, he urges organization of unemployed councils to demand jobs and bring the unemployed together.

He wants "political councils" set up to "take effective control of their communities."

He demands immediate establishment of "farm-worker organizations of sharecroppers and tenant farmers" so they could "demand agrarian reform and land to the landless."

"They don't just pass resolutions. They're zealously working for a revolution."

"They won't make it, of course, but the trouble they make will give this country real difficulty."

Then Epton wants all these units to "come together into a nationwide coalition" in an "all-black liberation front led by the black working class."

The tenor of his words, the implications of his call to action can be measured by his feeling that the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King is too moderate to be followed by the Negro people alike.

The tenor of his words, the implications of his call to action can be measured by his feeling that the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King is too moderate to be followed by the Negro people alike.

Epton, a vice president of the new party, calls for the launching of "self defense units" to protect the organizations and activities he outlines from "attacks by the ruling class and their representative arm — the police and other para-military units."

Epton demands the revival of something not encountered inside labor for decades. He urges the creation of trade union caucuses or organizations within the trade union movement that would "represent the interests of the black workers and guarantee them (the interests)."

He calls for tenant, house, and block committees to struggle in low income areas.

IN THE IMAGE of the depression day militancy, he urges organization of unemployed councils to demand jobs and bring the unemployed together.

They are a very successful revolutionaries and have had ample money since the first day they went into business as the Progressive Labor Movement back in 1962.

In days of old they would have made up the youth movement of the American Communist party. But now the Moscow-line Communists are older and disinclined to go in for the direct action which they describe as "infantile leftism."

BY ACTUAL COUNT, there are some 1,500 known activists in the founding party. But, in the words of one of the government's highest security officials, they are "dedicated to stirring wildcat action in the factories and on the streets."

War On Crime

By David Lawrence

Federal Aid Needed To Combat Criminal Violence

In the war against crime, the American people are suffering their biggest defeat in history. There's plenty of official concern about the importance of a war against poverty or a war against ignorance or a war against racial discrimination. The actual figures show that, despite all the talk about improving education and public welfare, the number of murders is increasing, and the number of assaults and other serious crimes rises year after year.

The FBI figures for 1964 show that there were more than 175,000 violent attacks on people in the streets and in homes last year.

Robberies involving force or threats of force totaled more than 113,000.

Rapes by force exceeded 19,000 — a new all-time high for the United States.

There were 9,260 murders — one of the highest totals on record.

While it is true that the population has increased and it might be argued that the percentages in a few of the crime categories have not risen, the total number of persons actually subjected to violence is larger than ever before.

Crime as a whole is increasing at a rate five times faster than the rate of growth of the population. The impact in almost every community is one of growing terror.

Professors of criminal law are decrying the overemphasis on individual rights of the criminals, at the expense of public safety, and the tendency to excuse a person for his crimes if he comes from an unfavorable background.

Court decisions have been particularly criticized.

Supreme Court reversals of lower court convictions often have been on the side of the criminal, although the argument made has been that fundamental rights are involved.

Congress does nothing to implement the clause in the Constitution which says that no man shall be "deprived of life, liberty or property" except by lawful means.

Police chiefs throughout the country are frequently accused of "allowing brutality" and this criticism tends to give the criminal encouragement as he gets a feeling that somehow severe penalties will be avoided.

Meanwhile, police commissioners in various cities are emphasizing that bloodshed is becoming commonplace. Scarcely a day goes by that the newspapers do not report the occurrence of serious crimes throughout the country. No matter where the neighborhood is, people are beginning to worry about the war on crime.

Certainly the number of injured persons is growing every day.

The war on crime is the biggest single problem before the federal government, but it's being sadly neglected.

HAMMONDSVILLE—For the first time in the 20th century, village voters will not be casting their ballots at the old Saline Township Hall in the May 4 primary election.

The poll will be located instead at the Hammondsburg Elementary School Auditorium, Stanley Baker, Republican central committeeman, announced.

Residents have voted at the old township structure for many years. Roy Parson, oldest resident of the village, says it has been used for a polling place as long as he can recall.

As early as 1910 it was the practice site for the "Silver Cornet Band." And during the depression of the 1930's, hot lunch was served school pupils.

In the early days of the railroads here, the structure was near several tracks and switches, but since the relocation of the tracks between Irondequoit and Hammondsburg, the building was moved, and now faces the highway and main railroad line.

In all, 187 streams and 21 lakes will be stocked with trout.

Floodwaters Aim Force At Illinois Today

(By The Associated Press) Rising Mississippi floodwaters carved a half-mile swath in Dubuque, Iowa, stayed at a record crest in La Crosse, Wis., and aimed their force at Illinois today.

La Crosse dug in for two more days of record flooding that prompted Gov. Warren P. Knowles to comment, "That's enough to make you cry."

The 17.7-foot crest was 7.7 feet above flood stage and 2.4 feet higher than the record of 1952.

Dubuque, a city of 57,000 at the Iowa-Illinois junction, fought to stave off waters that were expected to crest at 26 feet Friday or Saturday.

The water covered a seven- or eight-block area of factories, small businesses and some homes. It covered parking meters and forced residents to flee their homes by boat.

Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa said he was asking legal advice on whether police could evict some 1,000 South Davenport residents who refused to leave their homes despite warnings of rising water.

Hughes estimated flood damage at $15 million and said the waters have forced from their homes some 3,000 persons.

At Hudson, Wis., just above the St. Croix River's junction with the Mississippi, ice chunks severely damaged a $600,000 marina. The floes swept 100 docks as far as five miles downstream. Tugboats hauled away docks that jammed against the Interstate 94 bridge. Damage came to $200,000, a spokesman said.

President Johnson declared as disaster areas the tier of Wisconsin counties that took the Mississippi's worst beating. The state's toll comes to two dead, one missing, some 14,000 persons affected and damage totaling $18.7 million.

Civil Defense authorities estimated that some 3,000 Illinois residents had left their homes from the northwest tip to the middle of the state's western border. The great danger area, they said, was just north of the Quad Cities—Rock Island, Moline, East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa.

No flood deaths have occurred in Illinois. Damage estimates would be impossible, Civil Defense authorities said.

Hearing Set Tuesday For Hookstown Man

A preliminary hearing now is set Tuesday in Municipal Court for James A. Halstead of Hookstown, arrested early Monday morning on a charge he forced open a soap-dispensing machine in an E. 3rd St. laundromat and attempted to obtain money from coin deposit boxes at the same establishment.

Halstead's hearing originally was set for today, but Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said the continuance was granted at the request of his court-appointed counsel, Atty. Jackman Vodrey. The judge named counsel for Halstead under a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that defendants in felony cases are entitled to legal representation at all times.

3 Local Men To Face Delinquency Charges

Three East Liverpool men are due preliminary hearings May 10 at 1:30 p.m. before juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors in connection with a series of recent burglaries.

The defendants are Gerald Prudmore, 18, of 1711 Park Ave., Ray G. Campbell, 30, of 1825 Parkway Ave., and Kenneth Adkins, 21, of 2616 Crawford Ave.

The three appeared Wednesday before Judge Tobin, who set bond at $1,000 each of appearance.

The three allegedly are implicated with three juveniles who were involved in seven burglaries recently in East Liverpool and Liverpool Township, court officials said. The juveniles are due before Judge Tobin Monday.

The court then imposed a five-day suspended term in County Jail and fined Mrs. Drum $25 and costs.

Ford Kidder, 336 Maxwell Rd., Chester, was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to halt for a stop sign March 15 at the junction of Midway Ln. and Curry St. Queried by the court, he said a minor traffic mishap was involved.

The affidavit was signed by Harole E. Haney Jr. of Ashland Pl., who said his was the other auto involved in the mishap.

Clarence Baker of Wellsville R.D. 1 was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving a truck with faulty brakes. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol April 15 on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road." Baker told the court his brakes have been repaired since he was cited.

The judge granted a continuance until May 17 in the case of Joseph J. Stajnrajk of Carmichaels, Pa., cited by the patrol April 3 on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30. The defendant pleaded not guilty.

Noting that the arresting officer did not appear, the court said the case will be dismissed if there is no prosecution witness at the next hearing. The judge noted that Stajnrajk already has lost two days' work as a result of court appearances in the arrest.

Ohio

The board pledged "insofar as possible" to avoid competition with their programs in expanding state-assisted institutions.

Board recommendations urged expansion of facilities in urban areas which students could attend on a commuting basis.

Such additional facilities are needed in the counties of Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin, Montgomery, Summit, Lucas, Stark and Mahoning, the report said.

Under the plan, Central State College would grow to 5,000 students, Bowling Green and Miami to 15,000 each, Kent State and Ohio University to 20,000 each and Ohio State University to 40,000.

Ohio State would be the comprehensive graduate school, the report said, supplemented by other universities, including Cincinnati, Akron and Toledo.

The report did not recommend state sponsorship for Akron, Cincinnati and Toledo — now municipal schools—but proposed those institutions make their own recommendations for growth.

Charles L. Schultze, 40

Budget Director's Witty, Quiet-Spoken Economist

WASHINGTON (AP) — In this administration the director of the Bureau of the Budget is one of the most influential and important men in Washington.

The professor picked by President Johnson to become budget director in June, Charles L. Schultze, 40, is a witty, gentle-spoken economist who helped develop some of the basic concepts of modern U.S. budget-making.

He is also tough enough to knock bureaucrats' heads together when the public purse needs protecting? "I hope so," Schultze told an interviewer.

"I've had 2½ years of learning how to be tough. From now on I'll have to be tougher, I guess."

The 2½ years were spent as assistant budget director. Schultze left that post only two months ago to resume his academic career at the University of Maryland.

Even before that stint he had learned the bureaucratic ropes. Schultze spent most of the 1950s, except for one year at the University of Indiana, on the staff of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, under Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

By fellow economists he is widely esteemed as one of the group which evolved the concepts of "fiscal drag" and "full employment surplus." The theories were put to a massive test in the $11.6-billion tax cut last year.

It once was customary to measure how much the government stimulated or retarded the economy by the amount of the government deficit or surplus, respectively. Schultze helped establish the idea that the true measure is how large the deficit or surplus would be if the economy were running at the full employment level.

Acknowledged it as if he were teaching a freshman class. Schultze paused a moment, then began: "Imagine a situation in which the government had a very high tax rate compared with its expenditures. At full employment there theoretically would be a big federal surplus.

"But because you are trying to run such a large surplus, a drag sets in. You are taking too much out of the economy in revenues, so you never get to full employment, and you never get the big surplus."

So the Schultze idea of how to reach full employment is, in effect, to calculate what full employment would do to government outlays and tax collections, and then try to adjust fiscal policy to achieve the result desired.

When President Johnson asked him to succeed Budget Director Kermit Gordon, who is resigning to become vice president of the Brookings Institution, Schultze stipulated that he'd have to stay with his classes until June.

He is pleased at the new challenge, but: "It will be a grind, not so much physically as psychologically. Making the decisions is tougher than being on the staff."

Fire School Outlined For Association

Plans for the annual fire school which will open this weekend were reviewed by Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville at a meeting of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association Wednesday night at North Georgetown.

Lewis is chairman of the school to be held Sunday and May 2.

Some 100 firemen have registered to date, representing 15 departments.

The classes will be held all day. Registration will be at 8 a.m. at the Wellsville fire station, with classes to begin at 9. Lunch will be served at noon at the high school cafeteria to their high schools for driver training without charge.

Rep. B. A. Broughton, chairman of the House Education Committee, said the proposal would help solve overcrowding of chartered high schools to branch units for the first two years of their college education.

House members voted 113-16 to require triangular fluorescent signs on the rear of slow-moving vehicles at night. The measure would apply to tractors and other farm vehicles traveling at speeds of 25 miles an hour or less.

Only one dissenting vote was cast against a measure by Rep. Howard A. Knight, R-Sandusky, for a feasibility study of a proposed pipeline to carry water from Lake Erie to several North Central Ohio counties. Rep. Dale C. McElree, D-Hardin, voted against the bill.

Paul Van Pelt, Homeworth chief, is president. Dale George, Minerva chief, presented a past president's pin to Robert Samek of the Negley department.

Ken Benoit, a junior from Spencer, Mass., will captain Columbia's basketball team next season.

Sent Along To Senate

Ohio House Passes Bills On Students, Pipelines

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bills involving college students, pipelines, and farm vehicles have been approved by the Ohio House and sent along to the Senate.

Representatives gave 91-35 approval Wednesday to a measure allowing state-supported universities to assign graduates of chartered high schools to branch units for the first two years of their college education.

Rep. B. A. Broughton, chairman of the House Education Committee, said the proposal would help solve overcrowding of the universities, which have 34 branches.

House members voted 113-16 to require triangular fluorescent signs on the rear of slow-moving vehicles at night. The measure would apply to tractors and other farm vehicles traveling at speeds of 25 miles an hour or less.

Only one dissenting vote was cast against a measure by Rep. Howard A. Knight, R-Sandusky, for a feasibility study of a proposed pipeline to carry water from Lake Erie to several North Central Ohio counties. Rep. Dale C. McElree, D-Hardin, voted against the bill.

Also approved by the House was a measure qualifying Ohio for up to $12 million in federal funds to assist community mental health centers and mental retardation facilities. The funds would be available under supervision of the State Mental Hygiene Division and a 19-member advisory board.

The house turned down a proposal by Rep. Thomas L. Thomas, D-Summit, to prevent the return of college students to their high schools for driver training without charge.

A bill designed to help Ohio's financially plagued commercial fishermen cleared the Senate over objections it would further reduce the fish population of Lake Erie.

Passed and sent to the House was a measure permitting a reduction in the size of mesh in gill nets thrown east of a line marked by the Huron Light-house and the Canadian border.

The Senate also passed a measure conveying an acre of state-owned land at Avon in Lorain County to the municipality of Avon. A similar measure was passed by the 1963 legislature but included a price tag of $1,800 which Avon was unable to pay. The new bill would convey the land, formerly occupied by a state highway garage, cost-free.

Board May Ask Bids In June On East End School

The Board of Education may be able to receive bids on construction of the first of the three new elementary buildings by mid-June if the State Department of Education approves the design development plans and the working drawings in sufficient time to advertise for bids.

The first of the new buildings to be constructed will be the East End school which will be located on the East Junior High tract.

Tentative plans call for the L-shaped building to be located along Etruria and Martin Sts. with the main entrance on Etruria St.

Robert F. Beatty, architect, explained the design development plans for the two-story structure to the board Monday night.

The plans will be forwarded to the State Department of Education for approval, after which Beatty can begin preparation of the working drawings, which also will be subject to state approval.

Plans also are being developed for the new senior high school and a two-story elementary school to serve the North Side on the ground the board has purchased on Maine Blvd.

The third elementary building, a one-floor structure, will be erected on property on Borden St.

The council, after enacting the resolution, asked all county voters who oppose the measure to write to State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, the county's spokesman in the lower house of the legislature.

Mrs. Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, county GOP chairwoman, presided. Women were present from East Liverpool, Columbian, East Palestine and Lisbon.

A Look At Controversial Issue 3

By ROBERT E. MILLER,
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Politicians who favor the simple approach have had a rough time campaigning for or against the most controversial issue on the May 4 ballot.

They've been using words like reapportionment, redistricting, and gerrymander to plug for passage or defeat of Issue No. 3.

What is Issue 3? Simply stated, it is a new formula for electing members of the Ohio House of Representatives devised by the legislature after the U.S. Supreme Court struck down major provisions of the present plan.

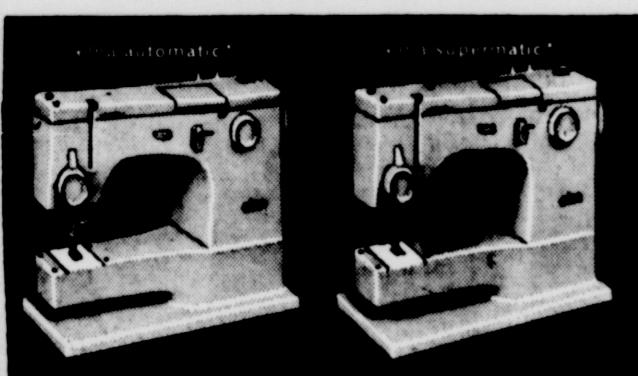

The high court ruled that state legislatures, as well as Congress, must be made up of persons elected as nearly as possible from districts of equal population.

This ruling shattered a 62-year-old amendment to Ohio's constitution which guaranteed each of the 88 counties at least one representative in the House, regardless of population.

Ohio, faced with devising a new plan, had two alternatives. The job could be left up to the federal courts or be handed to the legislature.

Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes called the 105th General Assembly into special session last November to reapportion, or shape new legislative districts, for members of the Ohio House.

That legislature had lopsided Republican majorities in both houses, more than the three-fifths majorities required to place a reapportionment amendment on the statewide ballot.

Democrats complained vigorously that the governor was politically motivated when he handed the job to the special session following big Democratic gains in the November election. In the election, Democrats gained an even split in the Ohio Senate and cut the Republican advantage in the 137-member House to 13 seats.

Rhodes knew, they charged, that the 106th General Assembly due to convene Jan. 3, 1965, could agree on no plan without support from both parties. The governor countered that the state was under Supreme Court order to act with "all reasonable speed" and unless action was taken, the federal courts could intervene.

In the case of odd numbers where equal distribution among the congressional districts would not be possible, the balance would be elected from the county at-large.

Say, for instance, that Cuyahoga County with its four congressional districts would be entitled to 23 representatives. Five would be elected from each congressional district and the other three from the county at-large.

The legislature didn't have to worry about Ohio's 32-member Senate. Senatorial districts in Ohio already comply with the Supreme Court's edict, officials said.

KKK Says FBI Should Spend More Time Rooting Out Reds

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Top Ku Klux Klansmen say they are not surprised by FBI claims the hooded orders have been infiltrated but they say government agents should spend more time seeking Communists.

Calvin Craig, Georgia grand dragon of the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, said the case of Gary Thomas Rowe Jr. of Birmingham was nothing new.

"He's one of the men who have been playing a dual role all along," said Craig, 36, Wednesday night.

"I was talking to Shelton about that over the weekend," he said. "Shelton told me he has known it for several years."

Craig referred to Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., imperial wizard of the United Klans of America and, as such, over-all head of several state groups. Shelton could not be reached for comment.

Rowe was reported to be the tipster who provided the FBI with information which resulted in prompt arrests in the slaying of Viola Liuzzo, the Detroit mother of five killed March 25 after the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery.

Both federal and Alabama authorities have declined comment on the Rowe report.

"Actually," said Craig, "we

With that background, the lame duck legislature drew up and approved the reapportionment plan which is scheduled to appear on the primary ballot. Democrats who fought it at every turn assert approval of the plan will enable Republicans to retain control of the legislature for "at least the next decade." This could be the case, they claim, because a Republican-controlled state apportionment board would figure in the plan.

Here's how the plan would work:

A divisor of 140 would be used to divide into Ohio's 1960 population (the last federal census) for an answer, or population ratio of 69,000. Each ratio would represent one seat in the House.

Smaller counties with a population of less than 69,000, now entitled to a seat of their own, would have to share a representative with another county or counties, or part of another county.

Larger counties, such as Cuyahoga and Hamilton which have several times the 69,000 figure, would have one seat for each ratio but an equal number would have to be elected from each Congressional District in the county. This is known as subdistricting.

In the case of odd numbers where equal distribution among the congressional districts would not be possible, the balance would be elected from the county at-large.

Say, for instance, that Cuyahoga County with its four congressional districts would be entitled to 23 representatives. Five would be elected from each congressional district and the other three from the county at-large.

The legislature didn't have to worry about Ohio's 32-member Senate. Senatorial districts in Ohio already comply with the Supreme Court's edict, officials said.

Democrat Contend that even though the first apportionment "do a creditable job" the chance would still exist that 20 years from now a board of either party might decide to shape districts to its own political advantage.

The opponents of Issue 3 predict it will fail while supporters are just as confident that it will win approval.

If it fails, the legislature could try again or sit tight and leave the job to the courts.

Democrats dispute Rhodes' claim that the job must be completed as rapidly as he says. They maintain another plan could be offered in the November election without concern over federal intervention before the end of the year.

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell me how I can remove candle wax from my table cloth, and also remove wax from my candelabra where the candles have dripped?

MRS. V. HUME.

DEAR MRS. HUME: To remove candle wax cotton, rub material with an ice cube or freeze in your deep freeze until the wax is hard. Most of it will flick off with your fingernail! Remove as much wax as possible. Rub cloth between the hands while still cold. More will come out! Brush off excess particles.

Place white paper napkins or facial tissues above and below the waxed spot and iron with a warm iron. When paper napkin shows grease spot remove and replace with fresh napkins. When no more spots appear on napkins, wash as usual or clean with a safe dry cleaning fluid.

Boiling water may be poured through the fabric.

On candelabra, just run under hot water until the wax melts! Be sure that you do not wet felt if any happens to be on the bottom. Polish as usual.

Something Snaps In The Spring

Possible Reason Offered For Outbreak In Slayings

NEW YORK (AP) — A prominent social scientist offered a possible explanation today for the outbreak of recent family slayings: Something snaps inside frustrated people in the spring.

"Spring always is a bad time for these things," Dr. Alfred McClung Lee said in an interview.

"All life is reawakening in the spring, the roads are open and these people can't use them," he said. "Life is frustrating. It is a time of inadequacy for them."

"They have to lash out at someone and often they do it against those to whom they are most devoted."

Lee, 58, a professor of sociology and anthropology at Brooklyn College and author of many sociology textbooks, quoted a line from Thoreau on the subject: "Most men lead lives of quiet desperation."

But the sociologist stressed that his theory is only a general one and not meant to provide any answer for the slayings of entire families in recent days.

"Of course, it is difficult to understand the tensions that build up in some people in spring," Lee said. "We do know that something snaps inside. It often is resolved by either violence, desertion or divorce."

These slayings without apparent motive have occurred:

— In New London, N.H., John Sargent, 32, a Korean War

Marine veteran who now is unemployed, has been charged with first-degree murder for the slaying of his wife, Janet, 30.

The couple's four children, ranging in age from 3 to 9, also were found shot to death Wednesday.

— In Vancouver, B.C., police

Wednesday found the bodies of Leonard Hogue, a Vancouver policeman, his wife and their six children in their suburban home in Coquitlam. "We are assuming the man shot the other members of the family and then committed suicide," a spokesman for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said. The children were between 3 and 13 years old.

director said Wednesday night an investigation was underway to determine whether Arthur Sherod, 37, had threatened to kill his family shortly before his car crashed into a truck, fatally injuring his wife and seven of their children Tuesday night.

Feeling By PTA's Head Starts Flow Of Books

CHICAGO (AP) — Because Jennelle Moorhead felt that time doesn't wait for a child, a tide of books is pouring into Louisville, Ky.

The books are destined for the one- and two-room schoolhouses of Appalachia, "where the wind whistles through the cracks in the walls" and there are few libraries, Mrs. Moorhead said.

Mrs. Moorhead, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said in an interview at PTA headquarters in Chicago that she hopes the total of books will reach a million by June 15.

The books include children's classics and reference works "that will really open the eyes of youngsters to the outside world," she said.

The national PTA has enlisted the cooperation of its 47,000 local units, the federal government, private enterprise and a group of 1,200 Kentucky college students who call themselves the Appalachian Volunteers.

Mrs. Moorhead, of Eugene, Ore., said Books for Appalachia had become a reality when "I went to Washington Dec. 12 to talk to R. Sargent Shriver — chief of the Office of Economic Opportunity — about the role the PTA might play in helping disadvantaged children."

"He talked to me about the need for books in Appalachia," said Mrs. Moorhead, 61.

"While the aid to Appalachia bill will aid the economy, time doesn't wait for a child. If they don't have books and supplies for today, then the days are gone very rapidly," she said.

In February the National PTA mailed the local PTA's book lists, bright colored shipping labels and blueprints for the special pine-and-fiberboard shipping crates that hold 100 books and later serve as bookcases.

Local PTA's begged, borrowed and bought books. PTA fathers hammered the boxes together. The Railway Express Agency, Inc., offered a special rate—1.95 each to ship the 50-pound crates to Louisville from anywhere in the United States.

The PTA's efforts have not gone unappreciated. When the first shipments arrived, said

Mrs. Moorhead, a University of Oregon health education professor, "the children were overjoyed — and the teachers were, too."

Midland Works Contributes $1,600 To Aid Scholarships

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. has announced an increased gift of $1,600 to the "Dollars for Scholars" campaign of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation serving the East Liverpool area.

The foundation also includes Midland, Western Beaver and South Side School districts.

John P. Strand, assistant works manager, presented the gift to Joseph D. Coons of East Liverpool, vice president of the scholarship fund drive.

Crucible's gift will help provide scholarships in all seven districts of the foundation. It is an increase over the company's $1,400 donation of last year. In the first year of the foundation, 1963, the company donated $500.

Depending for the most part on $1 donations, from individuals and with gifts from business and industry, the foundation last year raised nearly $20,000 and awarded 43 scholarships to Tri-State students who desired to further their education beyond high school.

Students qualify on the basis of need, scholarship, leadership and past employment. The number of scholarships depends on the amount of funds raised.

The foundation's goal this year is $35,000.

New Officers Are Selected For Band, Orchestra Group

Mrs. James Lessel was elected president of the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers at a meeting Tuesday night in the gymnasium of Memorial Auditorium. She succeeds Mrs. Charles R. Waggoner.

Others named include Mrs. Fred Yonc, vice president; Mrs. Harry Simpson, secretary, and Mrs. Evelyn Walker, treasurer. Mrs. Earl Locke, Mrs. Thomas Snow and Mrs. Carl Schneider were named to serve on the auditing committee.

The nominating committee was comprised of Mrs. Allen Goodman, Mrs. George Fone and Mrs. Anthony Corso.

Vincent Maola Jr. extended a welcome to the guests, which included former band mothers. He also introduced a trombone quartet who presented the program. The selections were "Three Equal" and "Marche Triomphale." The quartet is composed of Bill Persohn, Bill Brown, Gary Schmidmiller and Dave Emmerling.

Harry McConville, president of the Board of Education, addressed the group and commended Maola and the band members for their outstanding performance during the past year. He also praised the band mothers, noting that it is entirely through their efforts that equipment, uniforms and instruments are purchased, since the board is not permitted to finance the items. The group recently purchased a marimba for use by the Concert Band. A question-and-answer period followed McConville's address.

Mrs. Waggoner introduced former mothers who had served terms as presidents — Mrs. J. W. Batey, Mrs. B. W. Hunsicker, Mrs. Charles Kittridge, Mrs. Glen McCall, Mrs. Wayne Russell, Mrs. Locke and Mrs. Merle McSwegan. Each spoke briefly.

Special tribute was paid to the late Mrs. Danks Cochran, who served as the organization's first president, and to the late Mrs. Victor Cline.

Maola outlined details of the Band Concert to be held May 8 at the MA. The Choir Concert is scheduled for May 7 at Westgate School. The purchase of one ticket entitles the holder to attend both concerts.

Mrs. Willis Standley reported on the progress of plans for the annual dinner-dance for band and orchestra members May 1. Mrs. Jacob Goempel was named social chairman. Mrs. George Leigh and Mrs. Charles Deshler will handle reservations. Mr. Donald Duke, treasurer, reported on funds raised from various projects.

Blue vinyl garment bags, inscribed with the band's emblem, were displayed. Students may purchase the bags from Maola. A scrapbook depicting band

5th Amendment Frees Youth Facing State Assault Charge

Because of the Fifth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution and Ohio laws against self-incrimination, a defendant's unsupported admission is not enough to convict him on an assault and battery charge filed under state statute. Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ruled today.

The court, after a lengthy hearing, dismissed an affidavit in which George Williams, 18, of W. 2nd St. was accused of assaulting William Howell, 15, of Price St. Ext., on Sunday afternoon, April 4, on E. 6th St. near the Diamond.

Howell, who was hospitalized with a possible fractured skull and other injuries, appeared as the principal prosecution witness in Williams' hearing today. But Howell testified that he remembered little after making a remark to Williams and his wife, and added: "I don't even know who hit me."

Police officers who investigated the incident testified that Williams admitted striking Howell, but "the defendant cannot be convicted on his own statement unless it is supported by other evidence," the judge ruled.

Under direct examination, Howell said he remarked: "Hello, ugly," as Williams and his wife walked past him on the sidewalk. Under cross-examination, he denied making other remarks, including some words directed at the defendant's wife.

Also under cross-examination, he admitted that he had made remarks to Williams in the past, but he said they were always made "in a joking manner."

Summing up Howell's testimony, the judge commented: "He says he doesn't know who hit him. He admits he said 'hello, ugly' but 'in a joking manner.' He admits he made remarks to the defendant previously 'in a joking manner' and says he is a 'big kidder.'"

"That's fine if you know the other person will take the remarks 'in a joking manner,'" the judge continued. "The only other testimony was from police officers who arrived after the incident. They reconstructed the story from other persons."

Howell testified that he did not recall telling officers that Williams struck him. He said he did not remember an interview with police at City Hospital.

Atty. Bernard Fineman, counsel for Williams, moved for dismissal when the prosecution's case ended. He contended that Williams was not convicted "beyond a reasonable doubt" in the state's case.

After dismissing the case, the judge summoned Howell to the bench and warned him against making future remarks to others "in a joking manner."

Markets' Growth Aired At Meeting

Robert W. Mueller, nationally-known authority on the development of supermarkets, spoke at a meeting in Sharon Tuesday night for operators and key employees of district Golden Dawn markets and I.G.A. Foodliner stores.

Illustrating his talk with slides, he presented a wide range of figures that demonstrated the rapid growth of independent supermarkets.

Mueller was introduced by Hubert O'Brien, in charge of store development for Golden Dawn.

Louis R. Epstein, who directs the company's merchandising and advertising, outlined a new advertising campaign.

Harold A. Rosenblum, in charge of retail store supervision, also spoke.

A buffet lunch closed the meeting.

City Man's Held In Assault Case

A 23-year-old city man is being held today at the County Jail in Lisbon on a charge of attempted rape of a 14-year-old area girl. He pleaded not guilty Wednesday.

Arraigned Wednesday afternoon before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, Singer pleaded innocent. Bond was set at $1,500.

He is scheduled for a preliminary hearing Tuesday morning before Judge Tobin.

Officials indicated the alleged offense took place in the Westfield area.

Crash Hurts Woman; Boy Hit By Auto

A 36-year-old East Palestine area woman was injured when her car rammed a culvert near Leetonia early today and an East Rochester boy was hurt when hit by a car at New Alexander Wednesday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Betty Felger of East Palestine R.D. 1 suffered lacerations of the lips when her 1960 convertible veered off Route 344 and hit the culvert and warning sign at 1:40 a.m.

A passenger, Charles Steves, 37, of East Palestine R.D. 1 escaped injury in the mishap, a half-mile east of Leetonia, officers said. Damage to the auto was moderate, they added.

Gerald Tolley, 8, of East Rochester R. D. 1 was taken to Salem Central Clinic with injuries received when hit by a car on Route 172 at 7:45 p.m.

He was walking on the roadway, facing traffic, when he was struck by an oncoming auto operated by John Robert Yaggi, 19, of Alliance R. D. 5. Yaggi was temporarily blinded by the lights of an oncoming auto and was able to brake the car only seconds before it hit the boy, officers said.

The child suffered cuts on the scalp and right arm and abrasions of the left shoulder.

Bringing Up A Family

Parents Should Control The TV Dial

According to the published hearings conducted by the Senate Subcommittee to investigate juvenile delinquency some months ago, American families spend, on the average, between five and six hours each day in front of the television set. More than twenty-five of them Dr. Garry Myers are children twelve years and under. Most of their viewing occurs during the prime time period, and to 10 p.m. "A high proportion of this period is devoted to crime - detective, action - adventure, and western programs which feature violence and brutality."

On any given night at 8 p.m. 17 million children under twelve will be viewers; at 7 p.m. the figure is roughly 18 million. "Programs such as 'The Untouchables,' which stress crime and violence, draw anywhere from five to eight million juvenile viewers at any given time."

WITH THE purchase of TV sets and the population increasing, the number of child - viewers of prime time programs will increase. In this Senate Subcommittee report, which you may receive on request from its Chairman, Senator Thomas J. Dodd, Senate Building, Washington, D. C., you may read:

"Yet, it is clear that television, whose impact on the public mind is equal to or greater than that of any other medium, is a factor in molding the character, attitudes, and behavior patterns of America's young people. Further, it is the Subcommittee's view that the excessive amount of televised crime, violence and brutality can and does contribute to the development of attitudes and actions in many young people which pave the way for delinquent behavior."

"Filmed violence has been shown to stimulate aggressive actions among normal viewers as well as among the emotionally disturbed. This applies to all."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I were deeply interested in your counsel that parents should NOT be expected to support children who marry in college. This is what happened in our family:

Our eldest son, 21, a junior at Yale, handsome, bright and promising, fell in love with a 19-year-old girl who attends a nearby school. They wanted to marry during spring vacation.

We told our son we felt an obligation to educate him, but not to support him and a wife. We agreed to continue his usual allowance until he finished law school, but nothing more.

The parents of the girl decided ed our son was too good a catch to lose. They offered a lavish wedding, a beautiful bungalow (completely furnished, of course) and agreed to pay all their living expenses — indefinitely.

Our son now considers us "stingy, uncooperative and downright mean." The girl's parents are "generous, loyal and understanding." We rarely see our son and his wife. The girl's parents seem them a great deal. Was it worth it to stand by our principles? Sometimes I feel the price was too high.—HEARTACHE IN NEW HAVEN.

Dear Heartache: Unfortunately, your son and his girl were for sale to the highest bidder and her parents put in the high bid.

This is a dismal picture and not an uncommon one. I can only say I hope your son wakes up and recognizes the situation for what it is. The whole thing smells like last week's fish to me.

Plea For Privacy

Dear Ann: I'm a girl who will be 16 years old next month. I have to share a bedroom with my 12-year-old brother who is retarded. I love my brother very much and I help him all I can but I do feel a girl my age should have some privacy.

When my girl friend invites me to stay overnight I'm so envious that I can hardly stand it because she has a bedroom all to herself.

Dad admits we could afford to live in a larger place but he says it isn't necessary. Please say something to help me.—BETTY BLUE.

Dear Betty: A 16-year-old girl should not be sharing a bedroom with her younger brother. This is not good for either of you. I'm adding my voice to yours in the hope that you will be moving to a larger place very soon. Good luck.

Surprise Guests

Dear Ann: My husband is an executive. We frequently give cocktail parties, usually during convention time when the town is loaded with my husband's colleagues.

We love to entertain and people tell us we do it well. We plan our parties carefully. Although the atmosphere is casual and informal, a great deal of thought goes into the selection of the guests.

Our home is not large and we have learned that too many guests can be deadly. Often we must leave off the names of folks we'd like to invite in order to insure a group of the right size.

Certain guests invariably bring four or six of their friends along. Sometimes they phone ahead but usually they just show up at the door with the extras. The greeting generally goes like this: "Surprise! Look who I brought." Or — "I knew you wouldn't mind."

They feel, apparently, that just because it isn't a sitdown dinner it's all right.

Is there a solution to this problem? — ONE-DOWNSMANSHIP.

Dear One: When guests arrive at your door with unwanted extras you are trapped. Anticipate the problem when you do the inviting. Say, "We can comfortably accommodate only a limited number of guests in our home, so please don't bring anyone with you."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

College Bill Gets House Approval In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG — The House Wednesday approved a Community College Bill after some complex parliamentary moves, and the Senate approved legislation expanding county eligibility for state Industrial Development Authority loans.

The Community College bill was temporarily blocked by a Republican effort to send the measure back to committee, but Democrats finally pushed through the bill after a number of counter moves.

The bill provides the state pay half of the capital costs of new community colleges and deletes a section of the 1963 law declared unconstitutional. It now goes to the Senate.

The House also completed action on Anti-Poverty and Appalachia program authorizations.

Wagner Swats 2 Homers As Tribe Wins Home Opener

'Shuffled' Cards Post 2nd Victory Behind Purkey

Tigers Blank
A's And Twins
Blast Yanks

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Everything looks just fine to Leon Wagner, who is wearing contact lenses to improve his vision despite assurances from American League pitchers that there was nothing wrong with it in the first place.

The Cleveland slugger they call Daddy Wags zeroed in on the Los Angeles Angels Wednesday unloading two home runs, the second one leading off the 10th inning, as the Indians pulled out a 6-5 victory.

The homers were his second and third of the young season and hiked his batting average to a hefty .368, so his contact lenses can't be hurting.

"I can see the ball better," says Wagner. "I don't know whether they're going to help me hit more homers though."

Wagner broke up the game leading off against Ron Piche in the 10th after first the Angels and then the Indians rallied in the ninth. Cleveland was leading 4-2 on homers by Rocky Colavito and Wagner—when Los Angeles pushed across three runs in the ninth for a 5-4 edge.

Cleveland tied it with a run in the bottom half and Piche bailed the Angels out of a bases-loaded, one out jam before serving the gopher to Daddy Wags in the 10th.

In other American League action, Detroit blanked Kansas City 1-0, Chicago topped Boston 3-1 in 11 innings, Minnesota ripped New York 7-2 and Baltimore nipped Washington 3-2 in 11 innings.

Wagner, who rocketed 31 home runs out of American League parks last year, says Colavito's presence ought to help him hike his total by eight, maybe 10. "I almost would feel bad about hitting those home runs if Rocky doesn't get one," said Wagner. Daddy Wags didn't have to worry about Colavito Wednesday.

The White Sox and the Red Sox each pushed across a run in the first inning with sluggers Pete Ward and Frank Malzone laying down bunts. Then Boston's Bill Monbouquette and Chicago's John Buzhardt dueled into the 10th before Moose Skowron's two-run homer broke it up.

Tony Oliva, Rich Rollins and Jimmie Hall each hit two-run homers as the Twins spoiled the Yankees' home opener. Camilo Pascual and Gerry Fosnow combined to pitch the eight-hitter with Mickey Mantle's 457th career homer producing both New York runs.

Rollins and Oliva connected against Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre while Hall tagged reliever Pete Mikkelsen.

The Tigers managed only three hits but Don Demeter's two-out double in the fourth produced the game's only run as Hank Aguirre and Larry Sherry split Kansas City.

John Orsino's first home run of the year gave the Orioles their victory. Washington's Don Zimmer had tied it in the seventh with a pinch homer before Orsino's shot won it.

Beaver Local Wins 7 To 4

A four-run second inning, featured by Dennis Horger's home run with one on, sparked the Beaver Local High School baseball team to a 7-4 victory over Oak Glen Wednesday afternoon at the winners' field.

Horger, who played first base yesterday for the Beavers, also collected another hit to pace the attack along with Centerfielder Rich Shilling, who came through with a triple and a single.

Frank Quetot, on the mound for Beaver Local, struck out 14 and limited Oak Glen to four hits.

Two of the hits came from the bat of Shroades, who collected a single and a double.

Gary Beagle was behind the plate for the winners. Manley and Cashdollar formed the Oak Glen battery.

In addition to the four-run second inning, Beaver Local chalked up single runs in the first, fifth and sixth innings. Oak Glen tallied two in the first and one each in the fourth and sixth.

Beaver Local and West Branch will meet today at 4:30 at Beaver Local.

The daily average purse distribution at New York Racing Association tracks in 1964 was $7,899 for the 234-day season.

Buffalo's Miller Blanks Toledo On 3 Hits, 4-0

You can't keep a good man down seemed to be the theme song of Buffalo's Larry Miller as he hurled a three-hit, 4-0, shutout over the Toledo Mud Hens.

Miller, who was 4-8 with the Los Angeles Dodgers last season, showed his desire to return to the big leagues as he struck out nine and walked only two men over the full nine innings.

Wednesday night, it was the first start of the season for the left-hander.

Elsewhere in the International League, Atlanta continued its all-winning ways with a 5-1 victory over Syracuse, and Rochester finally gained its first win of the season, downing Jacksonville 4-3. Toronto and Columbus were rained out.

Without Wharam, the go-forward of the Scooter Line directed by Stan Mikita, will be back in action for the first time since last Thursday when he injured his knee in the semifinal wrapup against Detroit.

Wharam, the go-forward of the Scooter Line directed by Stan Mikita, will be back in action for the first time since last Thursday when he injured his knee in the semifinal wrapup against Detroit.

With Wharam back and a slim chance that Pilote might play, the Hawks are far behind in their best-of-7 series.

'Chase' Theme Expands On Television

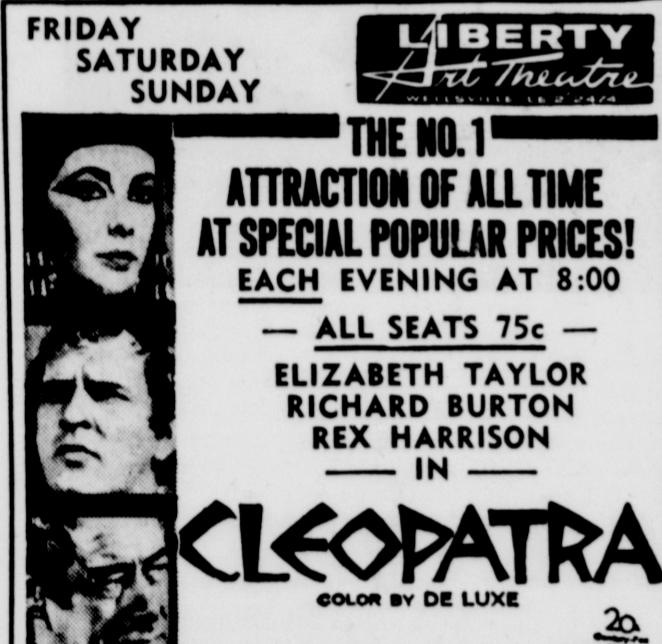

A column here last week mentioning the trend toward TV series based on somebody being chased or chasing somebody has provoked all sorts of reaction. The same day the column appeared, my phone rang and a rough, breathless voice inquired, "You d'guy who wrote Hal Humphrey about d'guy lookin' for chase stories?"

I said I was and this caller told me how he has been chased by the Syndicate for the past few years.

"I been t'Hawaii, had my own business there, and all over. Changed my name naturally—a couple a times—but they don't know that. I could give this guy Cohen a real story."

"THIS COHEN GUY" referred to was Larry Cohen, the TV writer who created "Branded" and a new chase thing called "Coronet Blue" because he figured the success of "The Fugitive" made it worth a few copies—with different gimmicks or reasons for the chase, of course.

I suggested to this fugitive from the Syndicate that he get
